

Accuracy during training process for different data sizes, activation functions, and numbers of layers

